

*The One Hundred Thirty-Second
Commencement of Saint Peter's University*

Friday, May 19, 2023

Message

from the President

May 19, 2023

Dear Members of the Class of 2023:

Today, we gather to recognize your achievement. I know your collegiate journey might have looked a bit different than what you initially envisioned - navigating a global pandemic was probably not in your plans! And yet during a time of great uncertainty you rose to the challenge, demonstrating great flexibility as you faced situations never faced before. I have never been prouder of the Saint Peter's community.

Today's ceremony recognizes the successful completion of your degree and the beginning of a new chapter in your life. However, the rest is still unwritten. Now is the time to pursue opportunities for which you have developed a genuine love and passion and in the words of Saint Ignatius, "go forth and set the world on fire."

I am confident that your education has prepared you to excel intellectually, lead ethically, serve compassionately and promote justice as your journey continues. The Ignatian values instilled in you have provided a solid intellectual, moral and spiritual foundation on which to build a life full of gratitude, knowledge and community. Unquestionably, the Class of 2023 consists of future leaders who will forever be "men and women for others."

Know that as you join our Peacock family of more than 36,000 alumni, I am so proud of you and all that you have accomplished at Saint Peter's. Please remember to stay in touch with alma mater so that we can continue to celebrate your successes. And don't forget to visit! On behalf of everyone at Saint Peter's, congratulations!

Sincerely,

Eugene J. Cornacchia, Ph.D.
President

Commencement Address

Michelle Miller

Michelle Miller is co-host for CBS Saturday Morning and national correspondent for CBS News. She also serves as a substitute anchor on CBS Mornings and 48 Hours.

Before joining CBS News in 2004, Miller was an anchor and reporter at WWL-TV in New Orleans.

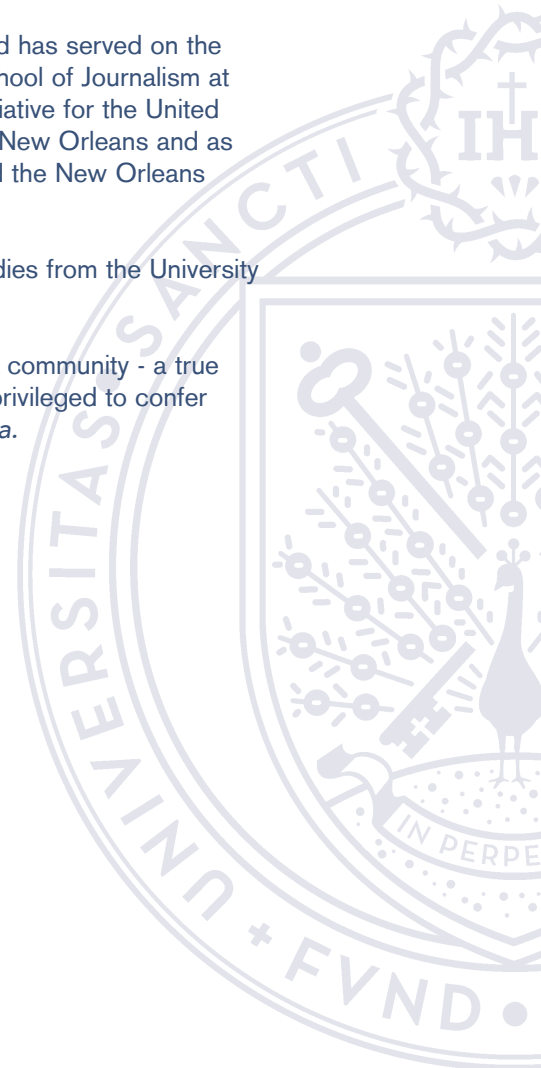

From presidential elections to the climate crisis, her area of coverage is wide-ranging, but her reporting on social justice has been particularly groundbreaking. From her coverage of the killings of George Floyd, Trayvon Martin and Michael Brown, to the Emanuel 9 Massacre in Charleston and sexual assault allegations against Bill Cosby, Russell Simmons and Harvey Weinstein, Miller has been at the forefront of these issues. She was the first CBS News correspondent on the ground at Sandy Hook Elementary School.

Miller's reporting has earned her several prestigious journalism awards including an Emmy for her series of reports on the National Guard's Youth Challenge Academy, a Gracie Award for 48 Hours and a Murrow Award for her coverage of a daycare center stand-off in New Orleans.

She sits on the boards of Education Africa and the School of American Ballet and has served on the advisory councils of the March of Dimes National Communications & Scripps School of Journalism at Hampton University. Miller is a founding member of the Women's Leadership Initiative for the United Way of New Orleans and has served as vice president of the YWCA of Greater New Orleans and as the president of both the Black Journalists Association of Southern California and the New Orleans Association of Black Journalists.

She earned a B.A. in journalism from Howard University and a M.A. in urban studies from the University of New Orleans.

For her extraordinary accomplishments as a journalist and her commitment to the community - a true "woman for others" in the Jesuit tradition - Saint Peter's University is proud and privileged to confer upon Michelle Mari Miller the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Richard J. Ensor, Esq. '75

A proven leader in intercollegiate sports, event management and sports law for over three decades, Richard J. Ensor, Esq. '75 was named the third Commissioner of the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) in August 1988. During his tenure, the MAAC has secured a stable membership base, expanded the number of championships conducted and developed an extensive marketing program cemented with broadcast agreements with ESPN.

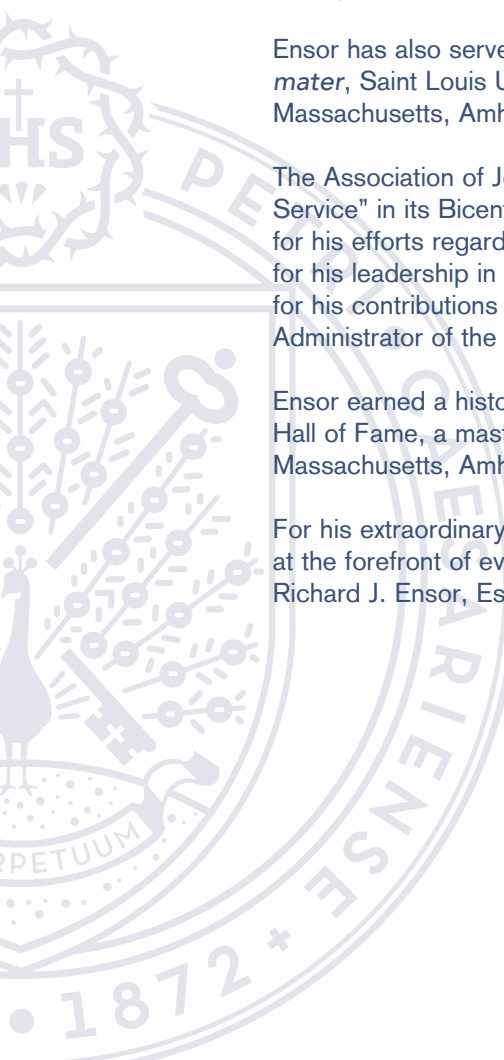

Ensor is a past member of the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Committee and past president of the Collegiate Commissioners Association (CCA). He serves on the boards of the Sports Lawyers Association, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame, Philadelphia Sports Congress and NACDA's IAAA ADs. He has served multiple terms on the NCAA DI Council and has served as chair of the Women's Basketball Oversight Committee. Since 2017, Ensor has served on the Arizona State University Sports Law and Business Program National Advisory Board. In 2020, Ensor was named a member of the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame Board of Directors for a three-year term.

Ensor has also served in many administrative capacities in college sports including positions at alma mater, Saint Louis University and Seton Hall University. He previously taught at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst and Seton Hall University.

The Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities (AJCU) named Ensor as one of the "Leaders of Service" in its Bicentennial Series publication and he was also honored by NACWA as a "Good Guy" for his efforts regarding gender equity. He has been honored by the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame for his leadership in basketball and contributions to the game and the WBCA has honored Ensor twice for his contributions to women's basketball with the coach's association's President's Award and as its Administrator of the Year.

Ensor earned a history degree from Saint Peter's, where he is a member of the University's Athletics Hall of Fame, a master's degree in sports management with honors from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst and a J.D. from Seton Hall University's School of Law.

For his extraordinary accomplishments as a leader in Division I athletics, always putting cura personalis at the forefront of everything he does, Saint Peter's University is proud and privileged to confer upon Richard J. Ensor, Esq. '75 the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Faculty Mace

The Saint Peter's University faculty mace is a symbol of the important role of faculty. It is carried by the president of the Faculty Senate at two annual occasions: the University's fall Michaelmas ceremony and spring commencement. The mace consists of three parts: the crown, hilt and handle.

The crown, which features a peacock, serves as both the visual and symbolic centerpiece of the mace. In 1930, Rev. Robert Gannon, S.J., chose the peacock to serve as the mascot of what was then a newly reopened Saint Peter's College following World War I. He chose the peacock as the institution's symbol in order to reflect the theme of "resurrection and eternal life." The ancient Greeks taught that the flesh of the peacock did not decay at death, so Fr. Gannon felt that the brightly colored bird also embodied the College's motto: "IN PERPETUUM." The metal peacock is noted for its remarkable level of detail. Burnished in high grade nickel silver, it is emblematic of Art Deco style but also serves as a reminder that Jersey City was once the metal arts and ironwork crucible of the region.

The sculptural peacock stands astride a 12 cornered block or hilt fashioned from a piece of reclaimed Aleppo pinewood. The 12 corners represent the Apostolic roots of Saint Peter's Catholic identity. The Aleppo pine used to fashion the hilt comes from Manresa, Spain, in the Catalonia region. It was there that Saint Ignatius of Loyola experienced his famed illumination and saw God in all things. The hilt is emblazoned with the University seal, which symbolizes the Catholic identity and Jesuit mission of the University.

Finally, the handle of the Saint Peter's faculty mace is fashioned from reclaimed Spanish cedar or cedrela odorata. This piece of wood once grew in the region where Jesuit missionaries first settled (1609) along the banks of the Paraná River in what is now Paraguay.

The faculty mace symbolizes the transformational presence of the Society of Jesus in the old world of Spain and the new worlds of South and North America, from Paraguay to Pavonia.

Saint Peter's University

Alma Mater

Hail, Alma Mater,

Deathless Saint Peter's

Our loving hearts acclaim

Thy resurrected name.

Nor war nor time has power

to bind thee,

Thine is the spirit proud and free.

And as year on year comes winging,

We will still be singing praises to thy fame.

Hail, Alma Mater,

Hallowed Saint Peter's

With each new day we see

How much we owe to thee.

Truth is our guide, we shall not wander,

God is our strength, we shall not fail,

And our love will ever bind us

So that death will find us thine eternally.
